The mission of the IFATS website is to serve as a platform for the society to provide opportunity for the members to network, educate and engage with peer scientists and clinicians as well as patients.

The duties of the Website Committee members include:

- Development and support of IFATS website.
- Providing relevant resources to IFATS community and public.
- Work with other Committees to ensure that IFATS website enables the noted Committees to aid in their efforts to achieve their respective goals.
- Promote IFATS visibility through social media platforms, including Facebook and Twitter, and capture IFATS activities through generation of creative media (eg. photography, videography).
- To achieve these goals, members of the committee will:
 - Communicate via email and participate in bi-monthly conference calls. It is expected that all members will participate in all relevant communication.
 - Provide a website manager (Jordan Carney) with the content for the website and social media posts.
 - Choice to lead a specific sub-group (e.g.. Social Media postings, providing content for Clinicians, etc).

The duties of the Website Committee Chair and Co-Chair, in addition to those above:

- Prepare agenda for the conference calls
- Oversee the progress of website development and overall content quality (timely updates)
- Assign tasks and facilitate their completion
